What Is a Soft Water Loop? - Jason's Water Systems
A soft water loop is a copper piping system that reconnects your home's internal water distribution pipes to the water softener. The main use of a water loop is to keep the inside and outside of home's water systems separated.
Soft Water - Burlington Water Systems / Filters / Softeners
Soft Water. Water softeners are magnificent for residential places because they are able to remove calcium and magnesium from your water. Hard water may cause issues in residential homes due to the large amounts of minerals, calcium and magnesium in the water.
Hard Water vs Soft Water? What Is The Difference?
Scale build up from hard water can clog pipes, reduce water flow and limit the lifetime of appliances such as water heaters and coffee makers. On the flip side, when water is too soft it can cause staining and resistance to chlorine, which is especially problematic for swimming pools.
